Marion County Community Ministries (MCCM) does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, creed, age, national origin, ancestry, marital status or parental status, sexual orientation, or disability.

Eligibility Requirements and Method of Validating Need:

Our mission statement contains the phrase “respecting the dignity of our clients”. We recognize that it takes courage for someone to ask for help. We ask for basic income and expense information from our clients, but we do not use that information to qualify them for our services.

Marion County Community Ministries is a faith-based 501-(c)-(3) charity whose mission is to feed the hungry and to help our neighbors in need avoid disconnection of vital utility services such as electricity, water, and gas. Use of our programs or access to our services does NOT require religious affiliation or participation in religious activities of any kind (such as prayer, religious services, or worship).

MCCM does NOT proselytize, attempt to convert, or advocate religious practices or adherence to particular beliefs.
